

Libraries

Indiana Institute on Disability and Community

Click on the title to view upcoming meetings at the library and links to similar organizations.

Website	http://www.iidc.indiana.edu/
Contact	David Mank (Director)
Phone	812-855-6508
Email	iidc [at] indiana [dot] edu
Description	Formerly called Institute for the Study of Developmental Disabilities. The mission of the Indiana Institute on Disability and Community is to provide leadership that enables communities to include, support, and empower people with disabilities and family members.
Subjects	7 - Public/Social Benefit Children Indiana University Offices/Departments Libraries People with Disabilities
Updated	October 16, 2014

Midwest Collaborative for Library Services (formerly INCOLSA)

Click on the title to view upcoming meetings at the library and links to similar organizations.

Website	http://www.mcls.org/cms/sitem.cfm
Contact	Randy Dykhuis (Executive Director)
Phone	800-530-9019
Email	dykhuis [at] mcls [dot] org
Description	MCLS is a non-profit membership organization comprised of all types of libraries in Indiana and Michigan. MCLS provides libraries a convenient, single point of contact for training, group purchasing, and technical support for electronic resources. MCLS saves member libraries time and money. Please Note: The merge between INCOLSA and MCL is now complete. They are now known as MCLS (Midwest Collaborative for Library Services).
Additional Contact	Brian Austin (System Administrator)
Email	austinb [at] mcls [dot] org
Subjects	2 - Education Libraries Professional Associations
Updated	October 16, 2014

