Hello all and thank you for reading our last edition of MCPL's Quaranzine.

Yes, you read that correctly - this will be, unfortunately, our last edition of MCPL's Quaranzine. Now that the library, and county/state are reopening, there is no reason to continue our Quarantine Quaranzine. We hope that everyone remains safe with all the reopenings.

Thank you to everyone who has contributed to our Quaranzines - we appreciate you greatly!

We hope that you enjoy what our contributors have made and shared. Your continued support has been amazing, both in contributing and reading! Thanks for tuning in!

I'd like to feel more grounded

Thanks for contributing!

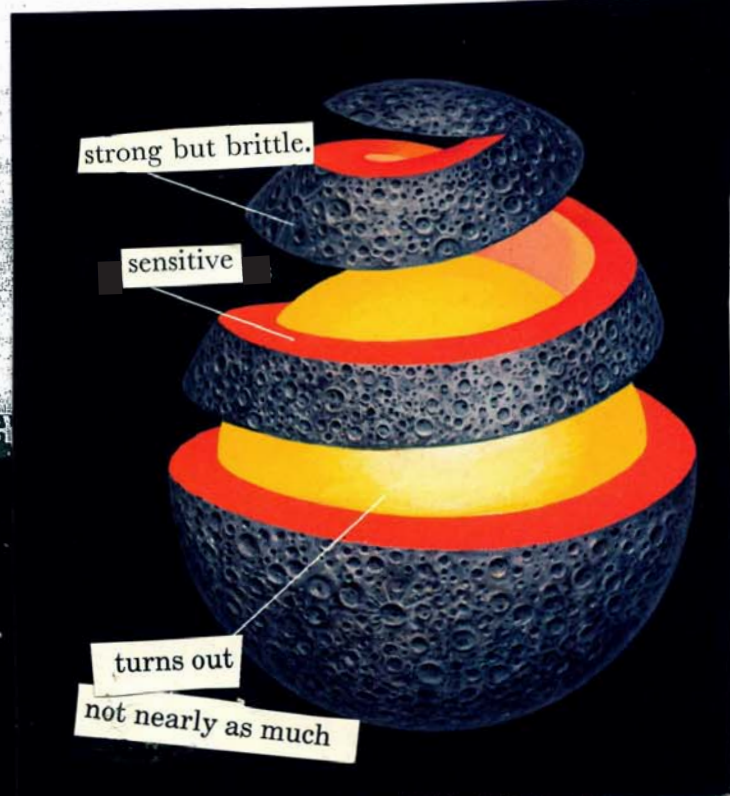

Its been wonderful seeing your ideas which have high-light our community and uplifted us!

Please reach out to quaranzine@mcpl.info with any questions.

Have you ever wondered how far away those stars are? What makes them shine?

Perhaps we live in a Universe that will expand away forever and simply run down, never to be reborn.

it breaks up completely and vanishes.

Will something stop it?
