Additional Appropriation: General Obligation Bond 2013

The Library will pay off its current bond in mid-2012. As a result, County Option Income Tax (COIT) receipts will fall nearly $500,000 by 2014 and remain at that level thereafter.

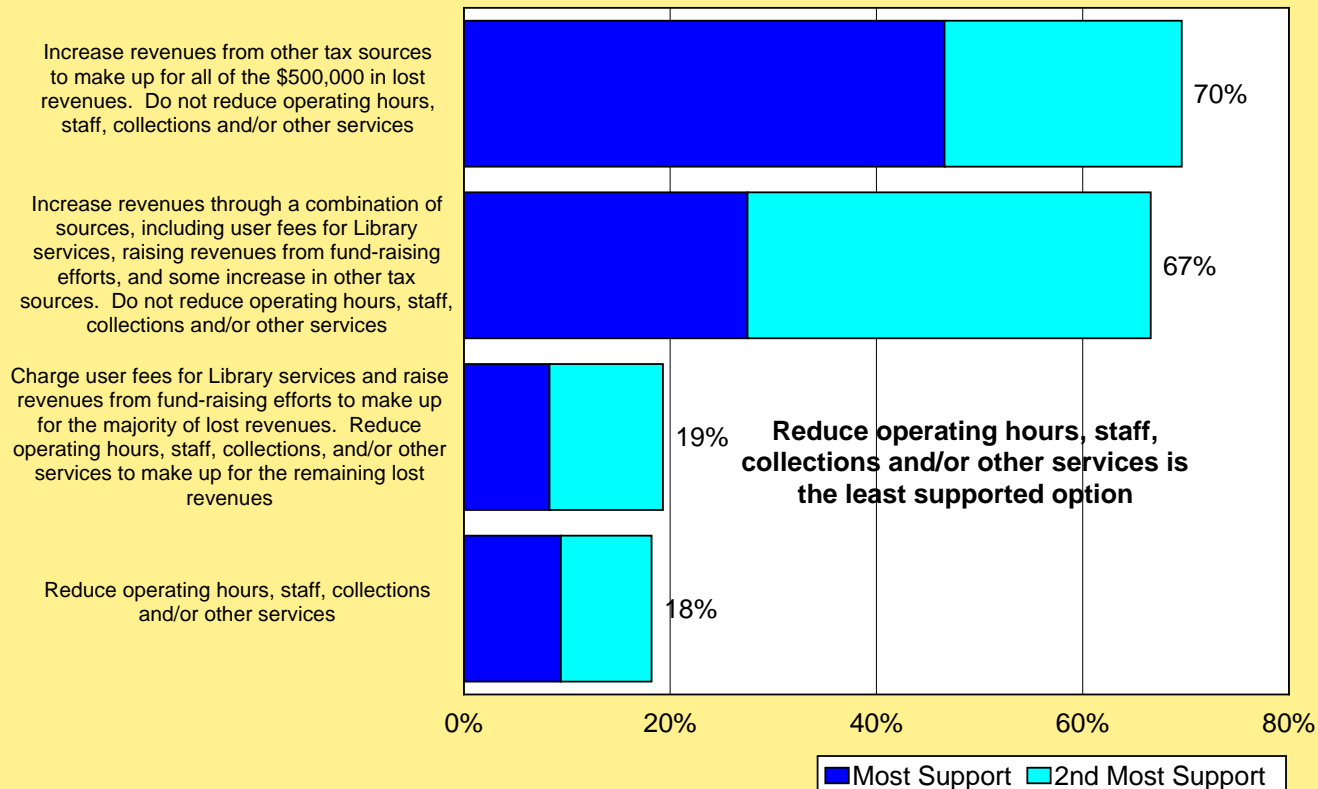

In the 2008 survey, Monroe County residents recommended increasing tax revenues and user fees and raising funds, rather than reducing hours, staff, collections or other services.

Q15. Which TWO Options Respondents Most Support the Library Choosing to Make Up the Estimated $500,000 in Lost County Option Income Tax Revenues by percentage of respondents who selected the item as one of their top two choices

Source: Leisure Vision/ETC Institute (March 2008)

COIT Decrease/Bond Opportunity

To replace the $500,000 COIT reduction in 2013, we propose two actions:

1. Issue a three-year, $1,800,000 public works bond (purple) to cover building repair/renovation & equipment/technology needs. As a result, the library's tax rate would be reduced from $.11 to $.09 per $100 AV; the Library could maintain most services and hours.
2. Combine Library Capital Projects Fund (LCPF) (red) into the Operating Fund (blue) in 2013.

Taxpayers will see a reduction in Library property taxes in 2012 and after. If adopted, a three-year public works bond would add back a small fraction. On a $150,000 home with an assessed value of $65,250, the total Library tax would go from $71.58 in 2011 to $60.72 in 2015.

Facilities Needs: 2013-2015

Bond or Library Capital Projects Fund
2013	Replace roof on Main Library 1996 addition	$400,000
	Update computer equipment (Library + CATS)	$133,000
	Landscaping - Main Library	$17,000
	Replace 1993 van	$25,000
	Demolish Ellettsville house	$25,000
2014	Replace chillers – Main Library	$300,000
	Update computer equipment (Library + CATS)	$150,000
	Replace elevator controls – Main Library	$100,000
	Add Ellettsville courtyard	$50,000
2015	Renovate auditorium – lighting, sound, stage, walls	$150,000

	Replace frequency drives for air handlers	$50,000
	Replace cobbled sidewalks at Kirkwood and parking lot	$25,000

"I went online and bought a copy of Rural Free, read it and said, 'Holy smokes, you're right. These are great!'" Oblack said.

As part of IU Press procedure, books are sent out for review and expert opinions prior to publication.

"I sent a copy of the book to Scott Sanders (nationally acclaimed novelist and essayist) and he wrote back right away and said, 'I'm embarrassed that I didn't know about these books.' That sealed the deal. We decided right away that we should bring them back to print."

Rural Free was a huge success, which led to the republication of The Land, The People. Oblack said Speak to the Earth will be available in mid-October.
